

Epic fun is always in store on Small Fortune, the game show where teams of friends and family take on tiny games to win huge money. In order to win, players must face heart-pounding challenges set in real-world destinations that test their precision and technique. There's just one small catch: all the destinations have been meticulously miniaturized into intricate dioramas – think mini Oval Office or tiny Golden Gate Bridge – promising high-stakes drama and enormous surprises! Teams who prove themselves worthy have the chance to walk away with a huge payout. But the smallest miscalculation or shake of the hand could cost them... big-time.
