Current Auto Category Dynamics

In a regular state of recalibration, the category is forging ahead within this redefined landscape as global trade agreements come through and federal policy changes continue

Headwinds

- The industry is preparing for a sales slowdown given affordability concerns and the removal of EV tax credits
- Consumer attitudes toward car ownership are changing, with new vehicle registrations down among A18-34
~10% share of new registrations in 1H'25 vs. ~12% in 1H'21¹
- Economic uncertainty caused by tariffs is driving a need for flexibility in media & marketing budgets/lead times

Tailwinds

- Tariff fears are easing as some levels come in above early-year benchmarks
- Inventory is slowly bouncing back, giving consumers more opportunity to purchase 82-day supply in early July, +17% vs. early June²
- Affordability is potentially improving, with new & used-car loan rates declining from a 25-year high³
- Shifting consumer behavior is fueling growth for aftermarket and 3rd Party e-commerce as DIY maintenance and used-car demand rises

As macro-economic dynamics & consumer spending patterns shift, brands across auto sub-categories focus on building trust to drive adoption, embedding into consumer lifestyles
